The I/O Psychology Department has seven Graduate Assistantships (GAs) with stipends and tuition remission totaling $35,118 per student annually. Departmental Assistantships are generally reserved for PhD students.

Additional research assistantships are awarded competitively through other University departments as well as through grants obtained by Psychology Department Faculty. Due to the success of our faculty at attracting research grants, more students are supported on psychology research assistantships. Additionally, some graduate students have received scholarships funded through the University and the State of Oklahoma.
